FOREWORD

The 1963 ARCH, our yearbook, will always be treasured by us because it contains our high school memories. The experiences and knowledge that we've gained in the past years are the foundation upon which we shall build our futures. We take pride in our yearbook for we not only worked to organize it, but we also lived these moments. We hope that through our enthusiasm, others will be able to enjoy and appreciate it as much as we do. This year has been filled with special memories. The fellowship in our class, which has been growing throughout the years, has put a personal feeling into our yearbook. There's a saying that "distance makes the heart grow fonder." Now we believe that an anticipation of a separation brings people closer. The most important years of our lives are condensed into the pages of the 1963 ARCH.

DEDICATION

With fondness and gratitude, we the class of 1963, dedicate our yearbook to the teacher who has been more than an instructor and advisor. He has reached out and befriended each and every one of us. His friendly sarcasm, humor, and understanding will remain in our memories throughout the years. To you, Mr. Randall, we proudly dedicate our yearbook.

"Now let's discuss the important problem at hand -- graduating!"

"All right, just how many times do I have to explain the problem?"

"Look at your answer again. It doesn't even make sense!"

THE LEADERS OF TOMORROW

The seniors wait quietly as Ann Foster directs Bob Hewitt, the valedictorian, onto the stage.

Surprised and honored, Sigr d Andreson receives the Franklin-Tilton-Northfield Scholarship from Mr. Richard Lewis, the editor of the JOURNAL TRANSCRIPT.

After many years of study and anticipation, Bonnie Batchelder and the rest of the seniors receive their long-awaited-for diplomas from Mr. Lawrence, the chairman of the school board.

THROUGH ACHIEVEMENT

With the distinct honor of being the only two members of the same family to join the National Honor Society, Sally and Mary Robinson accept congratulations from their happy parents.

National Honor Society Initiation

As a result and as a reward for long, diligent, hours of study, seven students this year were inducted as members of the National Honor Society. At an impressive candlelight ceremony held in the cafetorium, Kathleen Davidson, Susan King, Ellen Kulus, Barbara Prescott, Mary Robinson, James Sullivan, and Judith Jackes received their pins and cards, which signified their achievement in the academic field. The president of the organization, Robert Hewitt, along with the other officers of the group, Janet Surowiec, Linda Currier, Holly Morse, and Wayne Crowley, explained the requirements for admittance into the society to the gathering of parents and friends present. Having heard the qualities belonging to a National Honor Society member, the seven initiates thus accepted their newly acquired membership with promises to uphold the standards of the organization.

New members of the National Honor Society receiving their pins from Mr. Currier are: Mary Robinson, Barbara Prescott, Susan King, and Kathy Davidson.
